INVESTMENT

RUDENT people have at most I times surpluses, large or small, to invest. It is convenient and helpful for them to be able to engage a concern like the INDIANA TRUST COMPANY for aid to investment. By such agency their surpluses can be placed to better advantage. It is of general benefit to a community to have an institution of this kind. It finds out the best way for both borrower and lender, economizes effort, facilitates needed exchange; if required, undertakes the whole management of affairs of this kind.

London bar silver closed at 28%d. Total sales of stock were 288,103 shares, including: American Sugar, 65,300; Burlington, 92,600; Chicago Gas, 6,200; Louisville & Nashville, 2,800; Manhattan, 3,000; New Jersey Central, 3,800; Northwest, 14,100; Reading, 3,400; Rock Island, 13,100; St. Paul, 42,-800; Cordage, 2,600; Western Union, 4,900. The speculative list was central in Burlington & Quincy yesterday. During the forenoon the street awaited the action of the directors of the company, who went into session in Boston about noon. There seemed to be a very general impression that the regular dividend would be declared. Hence a good buying movement was in force up to midday, around which the stock touched 74%, an advance of 1% from Tuesday's closing. At about this time dispatches were received from Boston by the news agencies and houses with Boston connections that the dividend of 11/4 had been declared. This report was quickly proven false, and was evidently the result of a conspiracy on the part of some one in Boston with the view of working the market. The report was telephoned to the Boston News Bureau as from the directors' meeting, and was distributed by that oncern in ail directions. The false story was quickly followed by the true one that the dividend had been reduced to 1 per cent., and thereupon a rush to sell was begun, which in a short time had broken the price to 70%, a loss of 3% per cent. Some covering at this figure caused a rally of %, but it was impossible to stem the tide of sales, and another reaction set in. which sent the shares down to 70%, with only a recovery of 1/4 at the close. The loss from the highest point touched is 41/4, and from the final sale of Tuesday 2%. The volume of business in these shares was heavier than for a long time, the sales aggregating 25,000. Were i not for the brisk buying of the morning in the belief of a full dividend, the amount of stock thrown on the market during the afternoon would not have reached the large proportions which it did, but the early purchasers made certain of letting go their holdings at any price. The other grangers, as did most of the active list, followed the as did most of the active list, followed the course of Burlington, moving up in the forenoon and declining during the afternoon. St. Paul advanced ¾ and broke 2 per cent. rallying ¼; Rock Island sold up ¾, reacted 1¼, recovering ¼; Northwestern sold up ¾, fell off 2½ and reacted 1½; Sugar advanced 1¼ to 91½, reacted to 90 in sympathy with the depression in Burlington and then on good buying, rose to 91%, closing at a reaction of ¾, but making a gain of 1¾ on the day. New Jersey Central fell of 1% on the day. New Jersey Central fell off 114 per cent. in the early dealings, rallied I per cent., but sagged off 1% in general break, with a final rally of Western Union advanced % and lost 1 per cent., closing at the lowest. Delaware & Lackawanna sold down 2%, with only recovery. The market generally was at its worst in the final trading and closed decidedly weak in tone. The great majority of the list shows losses on ...e day, the more important declines besides those al-ready mentioned being: New York Central and Cordage, 1 per cent.; Cordage pre-

Manitoba and Pullman, 1; Consolidated Gas, 1/2; Distilling, 1/4, and Reading, 1/4.

lature. Of course we all think we know what is expected and what is necessary. All seem to agree in some things. Much is said about a new apportionment law. Now, I don't think we need a new bill. All we need is some amendments to the present bill. All seem to think 1897 will be the constitutional time to make a new bill. Quite a number of changes will be necesper gal, $1.10@1.15; oil, bergamot, per ib, $3; opium, $2.40; quinine, P. & W., per oz, 35@ 40c; balsam copaiba, 60@65c; soap, castile, Fr., 12@16c; soda bicarb., 4½@6c; salts, Ep- new bill, but I have not noticed that anyone Some think the courts would set aside a old prices, but bids are further away. Some doubts the right to make amendments. Why, Mr. Newkirk amended the bill of 1891 after the Legislature had adjourned. and gave one county its representation. It will do no good to amend senatorial districts in which elections were held on the 6th, and in the others, if they stood as they are, it would be impossible for the Democrats to control the next Senate. In many of the counties there need be no change for members of the lower house. Rush county has a member, and needs no change. Decatur, Shelby and many of the counties are all right. The law might be so amended as to take Jay county and some others that have been disfranchised from under the clutches of Democracy and restore them to liberty, and certainly no court would say that was wrong or unconstitutional. Some of the senatorial districts might be amended. Some seem to think the Governor will be in the way; not a bit of it. Mr. Matthews is rather a fair man, and if he should try to throw obstacles in the way he cannot do it. Whatever bills the Legislature may pass, if he vetoes them that body can pass them over his veto. The Senate has the power to choose its own committees, as the Democrats did when Chase was President of the Senate, and it is a desirable thing to have good committeemen. There is no time for adjournment when the House is organized. Let the members get together and mature plans, discuss bills, etc., while the Speaker makes up the committees, and let the Republican Senators get together and select the committees and move on. One thing you may depend on: The Governor will not be likely to call the Legislature together in extra session. It is a common thing to leave much needed legislation till the end of the session and then rush it through. Mr. Claypool spoke of reducing the school tax to 10 cents; it would be better to make it 5 cents. Then there would not be so much temptation to make false enumerations. Let the townships make whatever assessments they see fit and spend it where There is no doubt about the right to redistrict the State for congressional pur-poses, and, I thirk, no doubt about the right to amend where voters are disfranchised, as in the case of Jay county and many others. Hancock has not the required number to entitle it to a Representative, but Henry has quite a surplus, and no doubt would be willing to help Hancock out. Franklin lacks some, and Dearborn has a surplus. Let it help Franklin out and release Ohio and Switzerland. Fayette and Union just fit, and so on. Honesty, retrenchment and reform seem to be the watchword of all. That used to be the watenword of all. That used to be the cry of Democracy, but when they got the power that was dropped, and extravagance and corruption took its place.

Let us hope it will not be so with the Republicans. We don't want to see fifty-four doorkepers to keep six doors. Let them se-lect the best men for officers and let the

LOADED A BIG AMOUNT.

Cable News Was Disappointing and All Grain Declined, Provisions Also Closing Lower.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.-Liberal receipts, disappointing cables and free selling weakened wheat to-day, May closing %c lower. May corn closed 1/2c lower, May oats 1/4c lower and provisions at moderate declines. Wheat opened with a show of strength. The Liverpool market, abashed at the opening here, was firm at an advance of 1/2d. The opening price for May was 60%c bid with some sales at 601/2@60%c, and, for a minute or so, there was quite a trade at 601/2c. It soon weakened, however, when the cables were found to have brought no buying orders and the receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth were again discovered to be very heavy. The weakness increased and became quite pronounced. A New York dispatch was received saying the foreign markets had turned weak on offerings of Russian wheat lower than American prices. The total received at principal markets was 783,129 bu, against 669,000 bu on the similar day last year. The exports were light. The local feature of the day's business was the buying of Pardridge and Leeming and, succeeding them, that of Rosekrans. Among them those persons bought 2,000,000 bu in about twenty minutes and both Pardridge and Leeming, and Rosekrans purchases were said to be on account of Ed Pardridge. From the fact that the filling of such a line only raised the price about %c. the market became weaker than ever after it was finished. May had declined to 60%c and recovered to 60% 660%c. It worked off then to 59%c to the accompaniment of a large business. Near the close of the market it became known that a receiver had been appointed for a large flour mill at Duluth and the previous weakness became intensified on that announcement. May dropped in a few minutes from 59%c to 59%c and closed at 59% 259%c. December closed at 54c. Corn was weak, but at %c decline from vesterday's closing price for May there appeared to be unlimited buying orders paratively heavy receipts and absence of demand for the spot grain, except for the completion of one or two cargoes, the most of which were already in hand, caused some desire to sell. A good deal of the buying on the decline was ascribed to the fact of a good many puts having been sold good for all week, which could be sold good for all week, which could be bought against without risk at 49c for May. May opened at 494.049%c and, about the same time, a few lots were disposed of at 49%c straight. When wheat began to tumble corn weakened and sold off to 49c, the volume of buying at that caused a reaction of %c, but the offerings increased near the close and it declined to 48%c and closed at that price bid.

During the entire session in the oats market trading was inclined to drag. Sellers were few in number and orders to buy were more scarce. Trading was scattered. May started a shade firmer at 32%c, sold down to 32%c and at noon was back to 32%@32½c, closing at 32%c.

Provisions opened very weak and continued so for about two hours, but recovered at the end of that time and at the ered at the end of that time and at the close were only slightly lower than on the day before. Hog receipts were quite as liberal as exepected. January pork, which closed yesterday at $12.20, opened at $12.15 and closed at that price sellers. January lard, which rested yesterday at 7.05c, wound up to-day at 7.02½c. Ribs closed to-day at 6.10c, compared with 6.15c on the day before. Moderate buying prevented marked declines marked declines. Freights firm at 1½ for round trip and %c for small lots of corn to Buffalo.

on account of physical condition to get to the polls. Our government is based upon ballots; it is a great privilege to be a voter. Every citizen should vote. The citizen who demands to be hauled to the polls in a two hundred-dollar carriage, drawn by a five hundred-dollar team, ought to be disfranchised. Wherever you see vehicles and drivers, as a rule, money figures. Candidates should also be required to file statements under oath of expenses, itemized to whom paid and for what runs

How to Bring the Millennium.

Now that the Republicans are in power

I would like to call their attention to the parable of the unjust steward (Luke xvi), which is intended to teach us, as I understand it, that there's nothing inconsistent with perfect integrity in trimming your sails to catch the coming wind, the coming wind in my metaphor being woman's suffrage, which any one can see with half an eye is not very far off; it is in the very

air. Now, a great many jokes have been made about women voting just as their husbands or fathers do, and very probabiy they will on many questions, but who can doubt that their vote would be practically solid in the matter of temperance?

Everybody knows the Republicans are as harmless as the dove; if they are as wise as the serpent they will put a temperance plank in their platform in the near future, and then they will sweep the country; they will wipe out Mason and Dixon's line, wed the East to the West and help bring the M'CORD.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: "U. L. See" and W. T. Friedly, in communications to the Journal, made good suggestions as to amendments to the liquor law. Public opinion is ripe for an iron-clad law on this subject. Every restriction possible should be thrown around the traffic Is a paper that gives more attenand every facility possible given the offi cers of the law to detect and bring viotion to miscellaneous literature lators to justice. In addition to the oath than the other editions, and conand bond suggested, the person holding a license should be compelled to remove all tains in its sixteen, and often screens and partitions within the rooms twenty, pages a variety of choice used, so that a full view can be had from the outside. Such a provision will do more to prevent violation of law on the part of the saloon keeper and the practice of drink-ing than all the other provisions now in force or penalties that may be provided for reading matter that satisfies the most exacting taste. under the present law. On the one hand, the saloon keeper will be sure of detection, and on the other the drinker will be as certain to be seen taking his drink. If it were not for the secrecy covering the business violation would not occur, and no man regarding his self-respect would enter a sa-loon. The quart shops should also, if pos-sible, be regulated in the same manner. J. H. Claypool, in a recent communica-The tion to the Journal, advised that the present election law should not be disturbed. In this, I think, he is probably right. An amendment should, however, be made to the penal statute for violation of the election law. It should prevent the hiring of vehicles or their use for bringing in voters, except such as are sick or otherwise unable on account of physical condition to get to
